

BRITTON OFFERS
BILL FOR LABOR

Rock Co. Assemblyman
Wants Law Passed Restricting Child Labor,
of Radical Nature.

CADDY SAVES DAY

Action of Majority Leader on
a Direct Vote for Senator, a Surprise to Administration.

(By Staff Correspondent).
Madison, Wis., Jan. 29.—The child
labor law offered in the assembly yesterday by Mr. Britton of Beloit goes further than any similar measure ever
proposed in Wisconsin. Its sensational provision, and the one which will probably arouse the most vehement opposition, is the provision that children under 16 shall, in addition to other requirements, be able to read and write the English language.
Another important difference between the bill and the present law is
in regard to the permit by which children over 14 but under 16 may work.
Under the Britton bill these permits
must be given by the commissioner
of labor or a deputy factory inspector,
instead of the parents. A third important feature is the requirement
that a physician's certificate must be given that the child is physically able
to perform the labor without injury.
The day's labors must not exceed eight hours, and the child must not work before 6 a. m. nor later than 9
p. m., nor on Sunday. The bill is not likely to become a law in its present form, but it is certain that
some amendment to the present law
will be made which throw better restrictions around child labor.

Caddy's Action
F. A. Caddy, the majority floor leader
in the assembly, is probably considered to the credit of blocking the attempt to the Senator Spooner to election of United States senators by direct vote of the people offered by the democrats in both houses. Tuesday, before the senatorial election,
the attempt was made to force action on the resolution. Ex-Speaker Ray moved that it be referred to the committee on privileges and elections. Mr. Dahl, one of the ultra-half breeds, opposed the motion, saying
that he thought it an opportune time
to act. A roll call was demanded,
and about twenty of the administration men, including Speaker Lenroot
and Chairman Andrew of the committee on Privileges and Elections, came to the assistance of the twenty-four democrats in opposing reference, but the motion was carried, 55 to 44, and
the last attempt to throw a stumbling
block in Senator Spooner's way failed.
Mr. Caddy's motion has prevented
immediate action on the resolution
the day that it was introduced, and his vote yesterday, coming early in
the roll call, in favor of reference,
doubtless had considerable influence
on the other administration men who voted after him. Mr. Caddy's vote
was the fourteenth on the roll call,
but it was the third cast for reference
of the resolution to the committee.

Racine Election
A special election will be necessary
to decide the choice of assemblyman
in the second Racine county district,
where the republican and democratic candidates were tied. This was the decision reached by the assembly committee on privileges and elections
and its report was approved by the assembly.

NEAL BROWN'S RECEPTION

The democratic members of the legislature gave a reception to Neal
Brown, their nominee for U. S. senator, in the assembly chamber last evening, and the Wausau statesman
gave them a stirring speech. Mr.
Brown has a host of friends among
the republicans as well as among the members of his own party who were glad to see the honor, though an empty one, fall on him.

MILES FLATTERS
THE OLD DOWAGER

The American General Pleased the Chinese Empress with Empty Compliments.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 29.—Advises by steamer quote Pekin correspondents
of the Japanese papers as saying that
in an audience with the empress dowager at Pekin General Miles praised
the virtues of the empress dowager
after she had eulogistically referred to American achievements in the Philippines. He is said to have told her that her qualities surpassed those of Queen Victoria. The dispatches
state that the British at Pekin were much incensed.

GERMAN'S BUSY
IN HAVANA HARBOR

The Kaiser's Officers Take Sound-
ings of the Harbor Very Secretly.

Havana, Jan. 29.—It is reported
this evening that several German
army and naval officials, passengers
on the steamer Moltke, which arrived
here yesterday on a cruise in the West Indies, made extensive soundings of Havana harbor near the Santa Clara battery, garrisoned by American troops. They also took photographs of the fortifications.
In view of the attitude of Germany
in Venezuela this is regarded as significant. Although seemingly good authority is responsible for the report that Minister Squiers informed President Palma of the actions of the German officials, the United States minister denies it, and says he has heard only a rumor of it.
The Moltke sailed this afternoon
for Nassau and will arrive at New York on Feb. 1. The German officials aboard are Herr Hauptmann,
Max von Bardeleben, Graf von Berns-
toff, Herr Hauptmann von Berg, Herr Albert von Hahnke, Herr W. von Renthe, Lieut. Usler Gleichen, and Secretary of the Legation von Verdy du Vernols. All of these were sent on the cruise by the German government and it is understood that they have been making sounding secretly
all over the West Indies.

nounced that an invitation had been accepted from the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Massachusetts to visit them next September. Two hundred men will sail for the United States at that time under the command of their colonel, the Earl of Denbigh.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT
TO HAGUE COURT

Will Present Them with a $250,000
Library for International Arbitration

The Hague, Jan. 29.—In the first
chamber of the state general today it was announced that Andrew Carnegie
had offered $250,000 to found a library
for the Hague arbitration tribunal.
Senator Baughen, in paying a tribute to Mr. Carnegie, demanded an explanation of the rumors that the government had refused to accept the gift.
The government will reply tomorrow.

Kenosha power house. The generators were destroyed and the company

department are making an investigation of the report that horse meat
is on sale in that city. The board
do not object to the sale of meat from the horse but they fear that old and diseased animals have been used.

son with 1901.

at This Morning's Session.

Two Circuit Courts Are Established, in the Senate.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., Jan. 29.—Today's

duced were: To permit spring shoot-

piled by the state superintendent and
sold to the pupils at cost; to guard
deer hunters against careless shooters; appropriating $14,000 for the purchase of travelling libraries; for
the erection of a $100,000 building for violent insane at the Northern Hospital. The first bill was passed in the Senate, abolishing the Milwaukee superior court and providing two additional circuit courts. The report of the committee on the Racine county
contest recommending a special election, was adopted in the assembly.

Foreign Ministers in Peking Draft
A Note to Chinese Government.

Peking, Jan. 29.—The foreign ministers, with the exception of Minister Conger today drafted a note in reply
to the Chinese note of Jan. 19, expressing satisfaction with China's admission that the indemnity was on a gold
basis. The ministers called attention to the necessity for soon issuing
bonds to the different governments
for their shares of the indemnity, to replace the single bond given when the peace protocol was signed. The ministers, including Mr. Conger, joined in another note protesting against
the numerous appointments of black-
listed officials to offices.

BLUE NILE TO BE EXPLORED

American and Englishman to Lead
Abyssinian Expedition

London, Jan. 29.—W. N. MacMillan
of St. Louis, Mo., has planned to leave London in a few days for Addis Abe-ba, capital of Abyssinia, whence, with
Col. John L. Harrington, British agent
at the court of King Menelik, and Isidore Morse of Boston, he will lead
an important expedition to explore the whole course of the Blue Nile. The expedition will consist of 100 camels,
forty attendants, an armed escort of Abyssinians, and a flotilla of specially constructed boats. The object of the expedition is to ascertain the naviga-
bility of the Blue Nile as a trade route from central Abyssinia to the Mediterranean. The Anglo-Egyptian
authorities are aiding Mr. MacMillan, who is defraying the expenses. He expects to launch the flotilla at the source of the Blue Nile in June and hopes two months later to reach Khartoum, a thousand miles below, at the junction of the Blue Nile and the White Nile.

effect that the proposition that Venezuela be placed upon the same level
was not satisfactory. The powers
wish to be the preferred creditors
and refuse to accept the other plan.

Vienna, Jan. 29.—The new tariff
schedule was laid before parliament

finest woolen articles, increased 33
per cent.; leather, increased 20 to 50
per cent.; shoes, increased, 20 to 30

Himself with His Own
Rifle.

Nordhausen, Prussian Saxony, Jan.
29.—Prince Wolfgang Zu Solberg-Stol-
berg, who was found shot dead in the park of his castle at Rottlieherode, undoubtedly committed suicide. His father lay dead in the castle of Stol-
berg and his son started to spend the night by his father's body. The prince took a hunting rifle with him
in the carriage. On the way the prince got out, carrying his rifle with him into the thick woods. The driver
later heard a shot and waited a long time for the prince to return.
Then the man searched the woods
and found the prince dead, and his hands still clutching the rifle.

FRENCH DEPUTIES
FIGHT IN SESSION

Changes Proposed in the Constitution
Bring About a Personal Encounter.

Paris, Jan. 29.—A proposition backed by Jules Roche and other deputies was introduced in the chamber of deputies today calling for a revision
of the constitution. The main features of the measure consisted in
the incorporation as its first paragraph of the declaration of the rights
of man of the constitution of 1791 and
the conversion of the court of cassa-
tion into a supreme court, empowered
to pass on the claims of citizens that their constitutional rights have been violated by the legislative and executive branches of government.

A second bill was introduced by Charles Benoist, providing for the establishment of a supreme court intrusted with the protection of the rights and liberties of citizens and organized on the same lines as the supreme court of the United States.
At the conclusion of today's sitting Deputies Calenat and Chapuis got in-
to a heated discussion, culminating in
a personal encounter, in which Mr.
Calenat badly scratched his adver-sary's face. The colleagues of the two deputies intervened and separated

are under the command of One Tang,
a military graduate of Tien Tsin University, who saw service in the China-Japan war.

the shareholders of the Eastern Tele-

rival of the cables for long distance
transmission.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Trouble in a Chicago Women's club is being caused by the omission
of the names of women physicians
from a hospital directory.

The murder of Harry Ferris, a Chicago nonunion foreman, in 1900,
has been practically fixed upon James Kilroy by Dr. Weisskopf who identified the scar on Kilroy's neck.

Pilar Morin, an actress, began suit
for separate maintenance from her husband, Alme, La Chaux, a pianist,
because he notified her he would
"bury himself in a village" and become a pianist.

A union labor temple is being planned for the stockyards district
of Chicago, which may become a social center for the "city of dead leaves." A library, club rooms, and

Great Western and St. Paul cattle
trains collided at Oak Park.

Twenty persons are believed to have been crushed or burned to death

bound Crescent express trains on the Southern Pacific railroad near Tucson; the telegrapher is blamed.

duced at Springfield. Five members nominated by the association were provided for.

nois began his efforts to check the use
of cocaine with the indictment of five Chicago druggists. Society women,
business men, and levee residents
are said to be victims of the habit.
Many railroad wrecks have been blamed to its use and illegal sale.

pair the City Hall

committee held a few days ago,
Chairman Lowell was instructed to write James Rowson & Son to come to Janesville and make the necessary
repairs on the city hall. The committee will hold onto the money due Rowson & Son until these matters
are made right.

The highway committee also had a meeting the same afternoon and considered the labor question. They agreed to recommend to the council
that wherever city labor came in com-

ed labor prices, otherwise they would pay regular prices for labor.

SPOONER'S DAY
WAS A SUCCESS

Men from All Parts of the State Were Present
to Honor Their Favorite.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM

The Assembly Chamber Was Filled with an Admiring Audience, Gathered
to Greet Him.

(By Staff Correspondent).

Seldom in the history of this state
has any man ever been so honored by his fellow citizens as was John C.
Spooner on Wednesday noon at the Assembly chamber in Madison. Few men deserve the honors they are chosen for more than does Senator Spooner,
and if there has been any doubt in the minds of any element of the republican party whether John Spooner was the people's idol it was dispelled Wednesday noon.

The great hall of the Assembly
chamber at Madison was crowded.
Men from the lake regions knocked
shoulders with men from the Illinois
state line. Men from Milwaukee congratulated men from the Mississippi valley on the fortune of the day.
Every available space on the floor
was filled with chairs and the gallery
was crowded, and men sat on the outside of the rail and hung their feet
over. Flowers decked the speakers'
desk and even the reporters were crowded into half the usual space to make room for the great crowd.

Long before eleven the hall was filled and at ten minutes to twelve
when the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate announced "The Lt. Governor of the state of Wisconsin and the state Senate are waiting" rang out
every space that could be occupied
was jammed.

It was sharp twelve when Lt. Governor Davidson called the joint session to order and stated the nature of the business to be that of electing a United States senator to succeed Senator John C. Spooner. The roll was called and when Senator Spooner
was declared elected the tumult was only less than when he was escorted into the hall by Senator Stout and Assemblyman Ray and Rear. Then it was deafening. Women waved their handkerchiefs, men cheered and clap-
ped and for fully three minutes nothing could be heard above the noise.
Then Senator Spooner came forward.
He was overpowered with emotion.
Not that kind that can be brought to the surface at a second's notice and
which wears away in a few seconds
after it has played its part, but genuine feeling of gratitude and joyfulness at being so greeted. His voice was husky and emotion showed in every word that he spoke. He thanked the senate and assembly, he thanked his friends and neighbors and he thanked the republicans of the state
for the honor they had conferred upon him. His introduction was most pleasant and his few words to the joint convention were strong and
forceful and directly to the point.

Then came the informal reception,
stepping from the rostrum of the
speaker stood before the press tables
and received, first the state officers
and senators and then the assembly
and the spectators who were present
to wish him God speed in his new honor. For each whom he knew the Senator had a pleasant word, for those whom he did not he had a smile and a cordial handshake and for thirty minutes the line passed before him
showing him with congratulations
and best wishes.

There stood the Senator and on all sides were Conservative republicans
who gloried in the victory for the cause of republicanism and honest politics. It was a day of days for Wisconsin republicans and they gloried
in the honors paid to their chosen as though they were paid to themselves.
State platform and past party differences were swept aside and Spooner
was the man of the hour ahead
of everyone else, Governor, Senators or Assemblymen.

ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR DAY WILL BE OBSERVED

BY SOCIETIES OF THE WORLD

Special Programs Will Be Given at Next Sunday's Meetings of Local Societies.

Next Sunday will be Christian Endeavor day the world over and wherever there is a society of this international, interdenominational order the day will be observed with special and appropriate services. Sunday marks the twenty-third anniversary of the founding of the society.

A Non-Sectarian Society
The Christian Endeavor society was founded by Father Clark of Boston as a non-sectarian society for Christian young people. Although the first society was organized in connection with a Congregational church, the Christian Endeavor idea quickly found favor in other churches and many of the different denominations have been brought into closer touch with each other through the agency of this society. Through the young people, a bond has been established between the several denominations with which the society has become identified as a vital part of the church work.

In Local Churches
Christian Endeavor day will be observed with special exercises by the three societies of this city, the Presbyterian, the Baptist and the Congregational. In each of the societies the exercises will be held during the regular meeting hour which will be devoted to the special programs for the day. Each of the societies meets at six o'clock in the parlors of the church, with which it is identified.

Plan of Programs
At the Presbyterian church the special program prepared for all the societies will be followed and Miss Louise Crosby, president of the society, will be the leader. At both the Baptist and the Congregational churches there will be addresses. Judge B. F. Dunwiddie speaking at the Baptist church, and A. E. Matheson at the Congregational church. Frank Nelson will be the leader of the Baptist society and Miss Alice Fenton will preside at the meeting of the Congregational young people. There will be special musical programs at each of the meetings.

INNING CLUB HELD THEIR SECOND HOP

Central Hall Was the Scene of a Pleasant Dance on Wednesday Evening.

In spite of the heavy mist that made Wednesday evening dismal, good cheer reigned within Central hall at the second dance given by the Inning club. The theatrical attraction for the same evening, also tended to thin the numbers. Dancing was continued rather later than usual, to the harmonies of John Smith's orchestra, which has been engaged for the entire series of hops, the next of which is to be given in the middle of February.

FOG BURIED ALL SIGHTS FROM VIEW

Janesville Was Enveloped by the Real Thing on Wednesday.

Fog black, sooty, muggy fog settled down over Janesville early yesterday morning and shut off the view with as thick a curtain as ever graced the towers of dear "dear ol' Jan." All day long the heavy mist cut off the tops of buildings and shortened the streets to brief stretches of dripping pavement. Last night a slight drizzle set in which, if the weather man is correct in his statistics, will continue today, with more fog.

For its initial appearance, the fog was in fine fettle. Incoming trains were delayed, the engineers of both lines fearing to speed up even in the open, on account of shortened view. Pedestrians groped about the streets during even the busiest hours of the day, and when night settled down, the street lights were almost smothered in the heavy gloom.

"The fog is general over the Ohio and Mississippi valleys," says the weather man. "There is snow in North Dakota and rain along the Pacific coast as well. The area of low pressure extends over almost all of the middle states. Rain has commenced and it may possibly turn to snow before long."

Slippery pavements and shortened streets, with rain or snow as the case may be, certainly furnish a bright outlook for pedestrians for the next few days.

Will Meet Friday for Supper in the Association Building, Followed by Several Toasts.

Members of the Get One Club of the Y. M. C. A. and the new members who have been secured for the association will be banqueted at the association building Friday evening. A well selected toast will follow, W. F. McCaughy acting as presiding officer in his capacity as chairman of the membership committee of the association.

In order to accommodate those who are employed in the factories of the city the supper will not be served until seven o'clock. The spread will be furnished by the association, but served by the Woman's Auxiliary.

The following subjects will be responded to:
Association Work From the Standpoint of the Gymnasium, Frank Jackson.

From the Educational Standpoint, Arno Cammerer.

From the Social Standpoint, A. E. Matheson.

Our Influence, M. P. Richardson.

What Next? W. H. Hollenbach of Clinton.

It is expected that about one hundred persons will be present. No invitations are being issued, but all those are expected to be present who were successful in securing a new member for the Y. M. C. A. as well as the new members themselves.

The committee in charge, of which W. E. Mack is secretary, will be glad to hear from any who do not intend being present in order that unnecessary preparations may be made.

NEW WAREHOUSE IS COMPLETED

Friedman & Co.'s Model Building on Gold Street, Ready for Occupancy.

The J. Friedman & Co. warehouse on Gold street which has been under construction for the last three months is completed and in use. The main building is 60x130 with 20 foot side walls and with a storage capacity of 5,000 cases. The annex is 60 x 40 and is divided into an assorting room 60x24, a bundle room 30x16 and a packing room 30x16.

The front of the building is brick, the balance being frame covered with steel. The roof is covered with a fire proof sheeting so that the building has good outside protection from fires.

Cap. Campbell, the Wisconsin buyer for the firm has charge of the building and superintended its erection. The building is lighted by electricity and fitted with the latest appliances for handling the leaf. It is in fact an up-to-date warehouse and one of the best in the city.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad have a siding at the building giving the owners excellent shipping facilities.

Koehlin begin this evening and there is every indication that the ball will be the social dancing event of the season. All Odd Fellows invited. Tickets, 75c.

GREAT CONVENIENCE

The Street Cars After The Theater Last Night Pleased Patrons

When the theater goes came from the happy reign of King Dodo last night they found the street cars waiting at the doors. This was one of the most pleasing features of the evening's performance and was more than heartily appreciated by the patrons of the theater. It is hoped that this will be continued in the future.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Thursday, January 29, 1863.—Mr. J. P. Tupper, of the 4th Wisconsin regiment and late from Gen. Butler's division, New Orleans, will speak at Lappin's hall on Friday evening, Jan. 30. Subject—Destiny of Our Nation. A small admission fee of fifteen cents will be charged to defray expenses.

James Dennett of Milton sold to Norton and Company today five hogs which averaged 550 pounds. One of them weighed 609 pounds. He received 4.55 per cwt.

An enthusiastic union demonstration occurred at Fayetteville, Ark., yesterday. Over 1,000 loyal citizens of the state were present, and speeches were made by Dr. Johnson, prominent union refugee, Col. Bishop of the 1st Arkansas cavalry, and others. Fifteen home guard companies were organized and wished to be accepted as Arkansas militia. Hundreds of citizens signed a petition to congress to order an election of a member of congress from that state. All citizens having arms in their possession have given them up for the protection of their homes. Union sentiment in that section is daily growing stronger.

PREPARE EXHIBIT FOR CONVENTION

MAKE READY FOR THE MEETINGS AT MARINETTE.

ASSOCIATION TO SHOW WORK

Plans Are Being Made by Y. M. C. A. to Indicate Progress of Local Organization.

Another moon will complete its round before the opening sessions of the annual state convention of the Young Men's Christian association are held, but plans are already being made by the local officers for a better showing than ever before. This morning a photographer began to prowl around the building in search of some characteristic views for an exhibit which will be sent to Marinette where the meetings will be held.

Views will be sent which will give an idea of all branches of work which the association is carrying on,—religious, social, educational, and physical. A flash light will probably be taken at the gathering of the "Get One" club to represent the steps which have been taken in the social direction this year, in securing the Y. M. C. A. building as the meeting place of the Twilight and Social Union clubs.

Work for Delegation
If all goes well the Janesville association will be represented by a larger delegation than ever before. A number of small buttons, bearing the inscription "Marinette Convention, Feb. 26—March 1st," are being distributed for coat lapel circulation, as a means of keeping the subject before the members.

There are nearly three hundred members in the association who are eligible for attendance at Marinette, and it is hoped that a representative number of them will spend the three or four days at the northern city where the conventioners will meet.

May Big Exhibit
Although the exhibit will not include the Junior department among the delegates, every department of the work will be shown up in the exhibit. As the association has somewhat over three hundred and fifty members in its rolls in all departments, it feels that it is in a position to rank well toward the top among the most flourishing organizations of the state. The custom of making an exhibit to show the work done was begun at the Racine convention last year, and the idea proved so effective that it is to be continued on a larger scale this year.

TURK LOSES

Youseff Falls To Throw His Man In A Match At Rockford

Youseff, the Turk, will have to get together and do something before he again becomes a drawing card as a wrestler. Decil has bested him twice and Tuesday night at Rockford he lost a match to Emil Klank. The Turk was to throw Klank twice in sixty minutes, but did not succeed in getting a fall during the time. Klank acted entirely on the defensive and succeeded in slipping the Turk's holds as fast as he got them. The Turk lost a side bet of $100 on the match but as there were 1375 paid admissions to the hall he got his money back.

At the conclusion of the bout the Turk challenged Klank to a match for $300 a side, the winner to score the first two falls.

NOVEL WAY OF MAKING MONEY

Stage Hands Speculated in Bostonian Tickets, and Made the Money.

A new species of ticket speculator has sprung up in Portland, Oregon, that has given the management of the Marquam Grand Opera House in that city considerable trouble. He came from the rear of the house; in other words the stage hands formed a combine to buy all the best seats immediately the sale opened for the Christmas holidays. The Bostonians were booked for the last half of the Christmas week and as they never failed to sell out in Portland when they visited the Northwest they booked insured a certainty. That there was a backer to this enterprise is without question, and that he was a local manager is suspected. Anyhow, twenty-four hours before the Bostonians' sale commenced the lobby of the theater began to fill and

In an engagement it is believed he can concentrate one hundred and fifty thousand men for its defense. The rebels are destined to stake everything in their effort to hold Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and keep open communication with Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas.

Mr. Conway's speech in the house today denouncing Mr. Lincoln and prophesying the success of the proslavery democracy at the next presidential election was an effort of remarkable power and force and commanded universal attention from members in all parts of the house. It took the broadest radical anti-slavery grounds, and was meritorious in exposing the shortcomings of the long before ten a. m., the time announced for the opening of the sale, the place was packed and a line stretched around the block in which the theater stands. It was soon discovered that the mass of buyers were the wives, sisters, cousins and the aunts of the stage hands, and as the papers announced that each one could buy ten seats the house was speedily sold out. Then commenced the sidewalk deals when the stage hands themselves appeared and began to retail the seats at a premium. The management of the theater threatened to discharge every man who did not at once return his seats to the box office, and here the Union asserted itself. A strike was threatened which would have closed the theater that night. This was something the management had not counted on so there was no help for it. The sidewalk sale proceeded and the stage hands reaped a golden harvest, enough to spare for the Christmas holidays, while the backer made a nice sum on his investment. A court of enquiry is now sifting the matter and the Union has been called upon to expel the stage-hand ticket speculator.

ROYAL ARCANUM: WHAT IT MEANS

A Fraternal Beneficiary Society That Has a Definite Aim and Object.

The Royal Arcanum is a Fraternal Beneficiary society, incorporated under the Insurance Laws of Massachusetts, April, 1877. It gives to its members and their families when in sickness and distress, both financial and material aid, and at death pays to the beneficiary of deceased, one, two or three thousand dollars, according to the certificate held by the member. In its council meetings it inculcates in the minds of its members, the principles of good citizenship, our duty to ourselves and families, our neighbors and the world in general. Nothing of a political or sectarian character is allowed at any meeting, and after the routine of business has been attended to, something of an entertaining and educational nature is introduced, such as readings, recitations, debates and music.

It accepts only those who are between the ages of 21 and 55 years of age, who are able to earn a livelihood for themselves and those dependent upon them, and who can pass the required medical examination. Only those engaged in the less hazardous occupations of life are solicited.

TOBACCO DEALERS ARE VERY BUSY

THE WAREHOUSES NOW RUNNING
FULL FORCE PACKING LEAF

MANY CROPS BEING DELIVERED

Eastern Market Shows Considerable Activity—Reports from States
and Cities Given.

About all the warehouses in the city are now working a full force of hands, packing the tobacco already delivered and making room to receive more goods. The growers have the most of their tobacco stripped and are bringing it to delivery points as rapidly as possible. The business in the warehouses as far as the number of hands employed is concerned exceeds that of any previous season. The weekly pay rolls is many thousands of dollars and the distribution of this money among the merchants by the workers is a great help to the business interests of the city.

Look After Their Goods
Many eastern buyers who are having packings put up in this section are spending some time here receiving the goods and attending to the packing and assorting.

There are still a few belated sales, but their aggregate will not exceed fifty or sixty acres, with a probability that even this number will diminish, for the crop is practically cleaned out. Prices remain about 8 cents, but the lots are small and the purchases represent more the buyers' need of tobacco than the market value of the tobacco; which, after all, are hardly more than remnants. In old goods there is a moderate business in small lots, mostly to manufacturers.

General Leaf Market

Business this week has been better than usual at this time of the year, but not so good as was expected. It is well known that the great majority of manufacturers have little or no leaf on hand, and under the circumstances dealers expected a third week of January to open up rather more actively than was the case. But there is every indication that there will soon be little activity in the trade for inquiries are numerous and it is only a matter of time when these will end in sales. But if the transactions during the week were not up to expectations they were not by any means to be despised and several very respectable contracts were closed, notably in Connecticut, which seemed to lead the list. Sumatra sold somewhat more slowly than usual, the habit of buying only as needed having returned in full force. In Havana, the call was for old Remedios, but manufacturers have not yet nerved themselves to pay the price. Importers think the leaf is worth, and the latter therefore showed no great eagerness to part with their holdings which they are confident will command better figures as the prospects of the new crop become known. Shade grown leaf commanded considerable attention, and experimental purchases were not infrequent.

Connecticut Valley.

There is a decided difference of opinion as to the value of tobacco between growers and packers in this section and business, in consequence, is nearly at a standstill. There have been a very few sales at prices ranging from 15 to 20 cents, but as a rule buyers refuse to offer more than 10 to 14 cents for leaf, and the growers just as resolutely decline to part with their crops. There is the usual talk of farmers doing their own packing or having it done for them, but as yet no definite steps in this direction have been generally taken. But the situation is not a pleasant one, and unbiased observers believe that both sides should make some concessions. The farmers base their idea of values upon the scarcity of old tobacco and the growing demands of the cigar industry. The packers, on the other hand, while admitting the correctness of these arguments, declare the tobacco offered is not worth the price asked and that purchases made at these figures are sure to result in a loss. It would seem that both sides should not have much difficulty in getting together.

Lancaster, Pa.

The crop in general is a good one up to this time, showing good colors. The Havana seed, especially is turning out well, and it is admitted that 1902 was a "Havana seed year" and many regret they did not plant it. The crop grown having been at least four-fifths seed leaf. If carefully planted and topped nearly as much. Havana seed can be grown to the acre as seed leaf, while the price paid for it this year is from four to fourteen cents more than for the seed leaf.

New York.

Business is commencing to pick up in the tobacco line in this section and sales are more numerous, with a prospect of increased activity in a few days. Only a small percentage of the 1902 crop was bought in the field, packers apparently preferring to wait until the tobacco was stripped and banded, and now that suitable weather for this work has come, dealers are more active and are buying more freely. Sales so far reported range in price from 10 to 13 cents in the bundle and evidently are satisfactory to the growers, for a partial canvass of the tobacco growing districts indicates that the average this year will slightly exceed that of 1902. Though sales may be said to have only just commenced, deliveries are already being made and several warehouses are open. Thus far the tobacco received has proven better than was expected by either packers or growers.

St. Louis.

The first rush of 1903 in the leaf business is over, but a very satisfactory volume of trade is still coming to our dealers, and the month undoubtedly will make a very favorable showing for all. Some types of tobacco are getting scarce in this market, notably fine old Vuelta for seed and Havana goods, 1900 Penn.

B. L. B. and the various grades of Conn. L. B. from both the 1900 and 1901 crops. The small stocks remaining of these goods are rapidly being picked up by the wise ones.

Milwaukee
Reports made by a majority of the leaf men for the week show that there has been an increase in orders and business is encouraging. The traveling men are on the road, and this accounts for an increased activity. Collections are inclined to be rather slow.

Soil Not Injured

The question is often asked, how long can tobacco be grown on the same soil without exhausting its fertility? The answer would depend somewhat on circumstances. Wisconsin has been growing tobacco as an extensive crop only about 25 years, and yet there are farms in the town of Fulton where the same field has produced tobacco for 30 consecutive years. The New England Tobacco Grower states that a South Windsor grower, Mr. Signor, has raised tobacco every season for the last 64 years, or since he took charge of the place, and also states that he was informed by neighbors that tobacco had been grown on that place for 25 years before his arrival, making a total of about 79 years that tobacco has grown on that same land, and from the appearance of the crop that has been harvested during the past season, the land is still capable of producing a fine grade of tobacco.—Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

KING DODO COMES TO MYERS GRAND

Successful Musical Comedy Shows
Signs of Wear, But Pleases Large House.

King Dodo, the jolly old potentate of the stageland of song and mirth, returned to the Myers Grand last evening after an absence of nearly a year. Always wholesome, smart and ridiculously laughable, his asinine antics could not fail to meet with a hearty greeting.

As a whole the play had undergone something of the inevitable process of remodeling. Here and there the lines had been excised, the gags brought a decade or two nearer to date, and of course a grind on the Wall street pavement inserted. Unhappily the alterations extended also to the cast. The new faces and voices would not have been so welcome, were it not for the high standard which was set during the primal months of Dodo's sovereignty. By comparison the chorus was a trifle frazzled, the principals not quite so dazlingly brilliant.

But the short comings of last night's company were not flagrant enough to detract from the enjoyment of the performance. Far from it. When Charles Meyers, as his royal majesty, performed any of his characteristic brainless stunts the house came down. There were no two ways about it. There were no two ways about it. There were no two ways about it. There were no two ways about it. There were no two ways about it.

Perhaps no one in the company was quite so vivacious and charming as Miss Peckles. Impersonating Annette she seemed a graceful dancer, a melodious singer and a fascinating little woman. The chorus showed the precision common to the Savoy productions and the young ladies captured several rounds of applause for themselves during the marching business which accompanies the "Lad Who Leads" song.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH

Just Breathe Hyomel Four Times a Day and Be Cured.

If a few years ago some one had said you can cure catarrh by breathing air charged with a healing balsam, the idea would have been ridiculed and it remained for R. T. Booth that eminent investigator, to discover in Hyomel this method of cure. Hyomel has performed the most miraculous cures of catarrh and is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy that can be relied upon to do just what it claims.

The complete outfit of Hyomel costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel.

Breathe Hyomel through the Inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and it will cure the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects a complete and lasting cure.

The treasurer of the American Life Insurance Company, J. S. Nugent, of New York city, writes, "Hyomel has completely cured my daughter of catarrh from which she has been a sufferer for years."

In Janesville there are scores of well known people who say they have been cured of catarrh by Hyomel. If it does not cure you the People's Drug Company will return the money you paid for Hyomel. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to their faith in the remedy. People's Drug Co.

COLLEGE TEAM WAS DEFEATED

JANESVILLE WALKS AWAY FROM MILTON COLLEGE FIVE.

THE LOCALS MAKE FOUR FOULS

Home Team Plays a Rather Listless
Game, But Shows Greater Accuracy Than Visitors.

Janesville, 24; Milton College, 10.
That was the final score of the basketball game at the association building Wednesday, in which Janesville was represented by the Y. M. C. A. five. The two teams were quite evenly matched on the floor, but the visitors were so inaccurate in their basket throws that they failed to take advantage of all of the openings offered them.

In the matter of fouling the locals took a decided slump, and the umpires tooted their whistles more often for Janesville than Milton. It is the first time this season that the home team have had more fouls chalked against them than their competitors. For point winning the honors of the evening went to Murdoch who safely landed the sphere in the net five times from the field. Mathews was successful with four of the eight free throws given him.

At the outset of the match both sides were apathetic, and although the home defenders secured an early lead they did not warm up until later on.

Time was called for Mathews during the first half. His cranium came in sudden contact with the "gym" floor, and it was some minutes before he cared to go on with the game. Thereafter he sedulously avoided a re-embellish position.

ADDICKS DISAVOWS HIS PARTY

Regular Republicans Cast Off by Delaware Political Leader.

Dover, Del., Jan. 29.—J. Edward Addicks, who has within six votes of the necessary constitutional majority in the deadlock legislature for United States senator, issued a statement in which he says that the "bolter" or regular Republicans, having broken faith with his faction, the union Republicans, and violated the agreements made before the joint primary election on Oct. 4, it is impossible to consider any co-operation with the "bolters" in the future. This is taken to mean that in state, county and city elections in Delaware thereafter will be two Republican tickets.

Wreck Near Pulaski.

Calro, Ill., Jan. 29.—The heavy fog was responsible for a head end collision on the Illinois Central railroad near Pulaski. The Chicago fast train, No. 3, was running at the rate of sixty miles an hour when it struck the north-bound St. Louis train, No. 203. The body of Judge J. Fentress, chief counsel of the Illinois Central Road, was in the last car of the Chicago train being taken by his family to Bolivar, Tenn., for burial. The rear half of the car was demolished, and the casket containing the remains of Judge Fentress was broken open. The members of the family, who were in the front end of the car, were badly shaken up.

Crash at Granger, Ind.

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 29.—Grand Trunk passenger train No. 8 ran into the rear end of a south-bound Big Four passenger train at Granger, Ind. The rear coach on the Big Four passenger was lifted from the track and shoved through the bay window of the Granger station.

Passengers Shaken Up.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 29.—The Missouri Pacific train, which left here for Colorado, crashed into a switch engine head-on. In the east bottoms in this city. The passengers were shaken up, but none was hurt.

TWENTY DIE IN ARIZONA WRECK

MANY PERSONS ARE CREMATED

Oil From the Locomotive Reservoirs
Catches Fire and is Scattered Over Coaches, Burning to Death the Imprisoned Victims.

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 23.—Twenty dead, with perhaps a dozen others cremated in the fierce fire that followed a collision between two fast trains on the Southern Pacific Railroad, and at least sixteen persons seriously hurt, is the shocking report that comes from the scene of the disaster near Vallburg, seventeen miles east.

Tucson gained its first tidings of the disaster when a tourist coach, torn away from the other cars, thundered with terrific speed down the grade upon which the road is built between this city and Vallburg, and the frantic passengers shrieked the dread intelligence to the men at work in the railroad yards.

Blunder in Orders.

A dispatcher stationed at Esmond, midway between Tucson and Vallburg, is responsible for the accident. He made a blunder in carrying out his orders regarding the trains, and instead of side-tracking one of them he caused the two to dash together in a head-on collision at a point where each engineer considered that he had a clear track ahead.

Oil from the locomotive reservoirs caught fire and was scattered over the wrecked coaches, destroying eleven of them and burning to death the passengers who were pinned down in the wreckage.

List of Dead.

The dead, so far as identified, are as follows:
J. W. Bruce, J. H. Hilton, George McGrath, O. R. Wilkey.

Oil Starts Fire.

When the engineers sighted through the gloom the headlights of the opposing engines it was too late for either to accomplish anything, but an instant later the trains came together. The coaches were piled one upon the other and the oil flushed from the reservoirs, kindled to a flame from the scattered embers of the engine fires, and ignited the wreck.

One car broke loose from the rear of the east-bound train and rolled with ever-increasing momentum down the gradual grade toward Tucson. The passengers put on the brakes, but the coach did not stop, and continued on until it was brought to a stand in the yards here.

Twenty Are Dead.

Relief trains were started from here immediately with doctors and nurses aboard and prompt aid was given the sufferers. Those of the passengers and train crews who escaped chopped through the burning cars, and rescued as many of the imprisoned victims as could be reached.

Besides the sixteen seriously hurt, many were cut, bruised and shaken up. Twenty bodies were taken from the splintered debris, but it is estimated that twelve others were burned to death and the remains are still in the wreckage. The men in the engines were killed at their posts except one fireman, who was taken out alive.

WOULD-BE MURDERER IS SLAIN

Town Officers Kill a Farmhand Who Shoots a Bartender.

Davenport, Wash., Jan. 29.—Marshal Jack O'Farrell and Deputy Epperley shot and killed Charles Hill in a saloon here just as Hill was about to fire a third bullet into the prostrate body of Joseph Hoy, the bartender. Hill, who was a farm laborer, had been drinking. He entered the saloon, forced the bystanders to line up along the wall, and opened fire on Hoy, shooting him twice, when the officers entered and put an end to his career. Hoy may recover.

Easy to Polish a Stove.

Easily Applied—No Odor—No Dirt.

To polish a stove like pepper and salt may seem odd to those who have never used Sifter Stove Polish, but nevertheless, it is the newest, easiest and most convenient method known. Sifter Stove Polish is put in a large, round box with a perforated top similar to a pepper box. The polish never dries out and does not require soaking in water before using. There is never any waste. It is good to the last pinch. It is gently sifted on the stove, brushed with a damp cloth and lightly rubbed with a dry cloth. A brilliant, jet black lustre is obtained. There is no odor, no dirty saucers or pans, no rusty boxes to cover. The Sifter box is always clean. Sifter Stove Polish is cheap. It costs a cents a box, will polish more stoves than three times its cost in any other polish. All dealers.

SPOONER'S OVATION
Never before in the annals of Wisconsin politics has such a scene of genuine enthusiasm greeted a public man elected to an office of trust and honor as was accorded to John C. Spooner in the joint session of the senate and assembly at Madison yesterday at noon. The great hall of the assembly chamber was crowded with men from all parts of the state. From the Superior coast to the state line from Milwaukee and Green Bay to Prairie du Chien and La Crosse they had gathered to do honor to the great man they all loved. When he entered the hall such a burst of applause and cheering burst forth that even the old gray heads who had become hardened with years to such scenes were carried away and cheered too. It was a popular demonstration. A demonstration which was not accorded to the governor or to any previous senator. Honors were showered by lavish hands by men who had earnestly worked and fought in caucus, state convention and on the stump for just that moment and this was their hour of triumph. Not once did the applause decrease but its volume was as steady when he finished his brief but strong address as when he began and his informal reception only added glory to his name and fame.

POST CHECK CURRENCY
The theory of the post check notes is that a man has them on hand in the current money which he carries in his pocket. There will be nothing else in the way of small bills. The money orders for sums of less than $5 would probably be taken out of the money order system. Each man would have his own money order on hand if he had a one dollar bill or a two dollar bill or a five dollar bill which he might wish to transmit. All the money of those denominations would be in the form of post check notes and would pass current as money until converted into checks by endorsement. When endorsed they are good only to the person named. These post check notes would constantly flow in and out of the treasury and there would be no appreciable contraction.

No one can foresee what will arise in actual practice, but I am unable to see wherein the post check would not work with entire smoothness and without complications. There is nowhere near as much complication in working the post check as there is with the present money order system. The additional work that would be entailed upon the treasury department is not, to my mind, a serious tenable objection.

I believe we can make the post check work smoothly. It is wonderfully simple and will adapt itself to the needs of the people very easily. I am more than ever convinced that it is a great improvement upon any method of transmitting money in use at the present time. We should experiment with it and see how it works. I understand the postmaster general approves the one dollar and two dollar post check notes. The above statement by so good authority as E. C. Madden, third assistant postmaster general should have much weight with congress.

THE CANAL

While it would possibly be premature to grow jubilant over the canal treaty in advance of its ratification by the senate, there is little doubt that the most serious obstacle in the way of the Panama route has been overcome. The tedious and unanticipated haggling over the terms of payment, which, if continued much longer, might have revitalized the distinctly inferior Nicaragua project, was a source of some anxiety. Possibly the delay which has occurred may postpone the commencement of actual preparations for a year. To ratify the treaty and make the necessary appropriations will take time, and congress now has less than six weeks to dispose of many important matters already before it.

The terms of the treaty are satisfactory enough. Under the form of a ninety-nine year lease with an option of renewal the United States acquires practically permanent control of a strip six miles wide, including the terminal harbors and cities, in consideration of the payment of $10,000,000 down and an annual rental of $225,000. The terms as reported heretofore were $7,000,000 with Colombia asking $600,000 annual rental and the United States offering only $100,000. Colombia not only secures a large addition to her cash resources and a very convenient annual income, but she is assured of the completion of a waterway that will greatly stimulate her commerce with the world and add to her wealth. Had she failed to make a bargain with the United States the probability of a canal at Panama would have been very small.

So Mr. Bryan thinks there is no trouble up in the mountains of Mexico about silver money. Well perhaps there is not but Bryan is the only one who finds this condition to exist.

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

A striking evidence of business activity in the United States at the present time is found in a comparison of pig iron statistics of the year just ended with those of earlier years, as compiled by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics. Recently published estimates of the production of pig iron in the United States during the calendar year 1902 put the total production at 17,500,000 tons. This is an increase of nearly two million tons over last year, and is more than double the production of 1896, three times that of 1886, four times that of 1881, six times that of 1879 eight times that of 1875, ten times that of 1872, and twenty times that of 1865. The steel production of the year is estimated at 15,000,000 tons, which is practically 50 per cent. more than that of 1900, nearly three times as much as that of 1896, ten times as much as that of 1884, and twenty times the production of 1878. In addition to this numerous production and increase over any earlier year, the importations of pig iron in the year just ended are ten times as great as in the preceding year and greater than in any year of the decade, and the total value of iron and steel imported will also exceed that of any year during the decade.

THE OIL BURNERS

The oil producers of Indiana have just closed the busiest and most profitable year they have known since they began to prospect for the green fluid under the soil of the state. In the past twelve months 3,914 wells were completed, or which 631 were listed as gas wells or "dry" holes. The daily production of the crude oil from the Indiana field has been from 1,000 to 27,000 barrels a day, and the enormous revenue from the sale of this oil has gone directly into the pockets of the people who live in the oil belt of the state. Since the first drill started down in Indiana soil in search of oil a total of 22,252 wells has been completed at an average cost of $2,000 making the total investment in the holes in the ground $44,504,000. This does include the millions of dollars invested in pipelines, pumping stations, storage tanks, royalties to farmers for the use of their land, and the wages paid to a vast army of drillers, pumpers, gaugers, tank "strappers," roustabouts, derrick and pump builders and others.

The Milwaukee Journal and their inside information are beginning to be the laughing stock of the politicians of the state. The venerable doctor is all right but he should once in a while stop "piping" and tell the truth.

The German government favors the United States building the Panama canal. Thanks Germany for your good wishes but if they are not any more accurate than your cannon shots at the Venezuelan fort were we can build it without them.

The Racine Journal has started the Spooner boom for president in 1908. May it thrive. But brother do you not think best to wait just a little and enrich the soil in which you place the seed?

Venezuela has decided that actual war is now prevailing. Well if any nation sent 1,600 shells into one of our forts in fun Uncle Sam would quickly decide that war was on for keeps.

Now that the Bishop Cosgrove of Iowa, has decided that Davenport is the worst city in the country, will he visit Marinette and then state which is the best city?

Speaker Lenroot is having his task of suiting all the legislators and pleasing the man who holds the whip over his head and makes him jump when he says "whoop-la."

Senator Quay's stand with his sixteen adherents is one of the comical sights of the United States senate today. Quay will win out you see if he does not.

Buttermakers from the interior of the state sell their own home made product for a good high price and then buy butterine for their own use.

The navy is more than satisfied with the tests of the wireless telegraph system and it will soon be put in use on all the seagoing men-of-war.

Now then the treaty is signed who will take it? Not the senate at present until Senator Morgan has looked matters up for a year or so more.

The terrible fire in the London insane hospital should be a warning to all like institutions throughout the country to look to their fire protections.

Col. Lynch thought England would not bring him to trial, but Britain always objected to traitors—against themselves.

The anti-trust resolutions brought in by the house judiciary committee was more stringent than was looked for.

Senator Merton does not mean to prohibit all divorces but simply to make it all fired hard for anyone to get one.

The question is does the State Journal purpose securing the official state paper or not?

Those brave German gunboats and those big little Venezuelan fighters. Three days they held them off.

Aguinaldo only wants a hundred million dollar loan. Probably he prefers to handle it himself, too.

If Lieut. Gov. Tillman can secure ball, what murderer should be refused?

PRESS COMMENT

Boston Globe: Minister Bowen is a poet, too, it seems, but he hasn't acted like one lately down in Venezuela.

Chicago News: Lieut. Gov. Tillman probably will have reason to wish that he had the pardoning power in his hands.

Toronto Star: Jean de Reszke has received the Legion of Honor in recognition of his high C. He didn't win it, either. He merely gave notes for it.

Jackson (Fla.) Times-Union and Citizen: Mississippi has failed some of her lynchers. Now the south looks to her and South Carolina for such vindication as the law may afford.

New York Telegram: Philadelphia gravely informs us that coal circulators received there quote egg and chestnut at $5 a ton. It's a chestnut all right. Fact is it is 13 cents a pair and going higher.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Tillman, the South Carolina murderer, is said to have shown emotion when informed of the death of his victim. He displayed none, however, when, without warning, he opened fire on an unarmed man.

Cleveland Leader: An Arkansas major has volunteered to march with 150 men to the relief of the south, which, he thinks, is threatened with an invasion of negro postmasters. A touch of zero weather and an empty coal bin are what that fellow needs.

Nashville (Tenn.) Banner: These Tillmans appear to have some idea to imitate the chivalry of the ante-war south, but they exhibit only a gross conception of its vices with no power to exemplify its virtues or to appreciate the delicate regard for the decencies of life that gave it distinction.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: The story from Mexico about the prompt interference of President Diaz to prevent the ruin of a company of oil producers by the Standard octopus reminds the people of the United States that our president has no power to do anything of the sort. It also reminds them that congress has done nothing.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Those Washington extortionists who have been charging $20 a ton for coal should at least deduct the rebate duty of 67 cents which will bring the price down to $19.33. Democratic theorists on the tariff ought to be entirely satisfied with the reduction.

Toronto Mail and Empire: A man in Athens, who made his way into the Greek palace and asked to see the throne room, has been arrested and placed in an asylum. It was as though he had entered the parliament buildings and asked to see a government official doing some work.

Chicago Chronicle: Now that he is elected to the senate Brother Smoot may be entirely sincere in his declaration that he "honors that broad minded and patriotic statesman, President Roosevelt," but we cannot forget that Brother Smoot courteously but firmly declined to accede to the broad minded and patriotic one that he should pull out of the senatorial contest.

CHIEF H. C. KLEIN GETS A SURPRISE

PRESENTED WITH WAGON, HARNESS, WHIP AND COAT.

GIFT OF ADMIRING FRIENDS

Mayor Richardson Made the Presentation at the City Hall, at Three O'clock.

"Meritorious service should be rewarded." These were the sentiments of the body of friends and business men that gathered at the city hall this afternoon to witness the presentation of the handsome new chief's wagon harness, whip, blanket and rubber coat to H. C. Klein, chief of the Janesville Fire department. The entire outfit was bought and paid for by the business men and friends of the chief, who recognize that during his long career in the Janesville Fire department as City electrician and later as chief, his efforts have ever been for the improvement of the service, and to give the citizens one of the best departments of its size in the country.

A Fearless Chief
Although young in years, Chief Klein is an old fire fighter and so far has never backed down on account of danger. He has been chief of the department but a short time, but he has already shown to the people that the rules established by his predecessors in office for the advancement of the service will be fully carried out.

Public Presentation
The presentation was made at three o'clock, at the Jackson street entrance to the city hall by Mayor Richardson. Chief Klein had been kept in the dark regarding the proposed gift and when escorted from his office to the front of the building, he could scarcely believe that the outfit was real.

Mayor Richardson then stepped to the front and in a short pleasing speech presented the outfit to Chief Klein. The chief was so taken back by this mark of esteem felt for him by the citizens that at first he could hardly speak, but soon found words to express his gratitude for the beautiful present.

Friends Planned Surprise
Shortly after Chief Klein was appointed by the mayor, the idea occurred to a few of his friends, that the chief's wagon, (a borrowed one) was not in keeping with the balance of the department, and that it would be an easy matter to get enough money subscribed in a short time, to purchase a complete outfit. With this idea in view a canvass of some of the business houses was made and all expressed themselves as being pleased to be able to contribute to the furtherance of the enterprise. With the assurance that they would have very little trouble raising the money the committee set about securing the outfit which today was presented to Chief Klein.

A Model Wagon
The new wagon is a model of its kind, and reflects great credit upon its builders, the Wisconsin Carriage company. It is something out of the ordinary run of wagons, and while it has the lines of a swell vehicle, it combines the qualities necessary to stand the hard usage a wagon of this character will be subjected to. It was built with the idea of furnishing a vehicle that is able to stand the racket for years and carry the loads that it will be called upon to transport at the time of fires. The builders assure that it will carry five hundred pounds of tools, and three men with safety. This idea has been carried out in all parts of the wagon.

Of Handsome Pattern
The box is a Cornish pattern, with the exception that it is cut down in front to make it easier to get in and out of. It is thirty inches wide and five feet long, and painted a beautiful shade of carmine with the lettering "Chief F. D." on each side in large gilt letters. The seat is thirty-six inches wide, with a twenty-two inch back, both seat and back being upholstered with No. 1 machine buffed leather, the edges being bound with brass. Heavy brass hand rails run from the back down both sides of the seat and a brass handrail extends entirely around the dashboard, which also has a solid brass whip-socket.

On the front of the dashboard is a fourteen inch brass alarm gong which is worked by the driver pressing a foot piece inside the wagon, and is loud enough to be heard blocks away.

Is Easy Riding

The body is hung on a Concord gear with six-leaf Concord springs, which, although they are necessarily heavy, are quite elastic and easy riding. The axles are of case hardened cast steel, 1 1/2 inches in diameter. The wheels are 14 inch. A grade Sarven, with 1 1/4 inch rubber tires. The tires were furnished free of charge by the India Rubber company of Akron, O. The hub caps are solid brass and dust proof. The shafts are in keeping with the other parts of the wagon, and are leather trimmed and brass capped.

The gear, like the body, is painted carmine with gold and black stripings. Every part of the wagon is built on honor, and nothing but first quality material has been used in its construction. All of the fittings are of hand forged, of Swedish iron. As it stands it represents $250 and the donors feel that they have received the full worth of their money.

Attractive Harness

The harness was made by Riker Bros., and is all hand work. It is stitched to the inch with solid brass trimmings. It has a four inch saddle, with a quick hitch belly band, and breast collar. The traces are an inch and a half wide and strong enough to pull any load put behind them. The lines are an inch and an eighth wide in front with 1 1/2 double band pieces, built so as to form holders for use when the horse is on the run. The bridle is a handsome affair and fitted with a heavy curb bit, which will be more for show purposes than actual use, as the service bridle will be kept on the horse while he is standing in the stall.

Whip Bears Monogram
In addition to the wagon and harness, to make the outfit complete, there is a solid brass mounted six and a half foot whale bone whip with the monogram, H. C. Klein, Chief Fire Department, engraved on it, a heavy woolen street blanket eighty-four by ninety inches and last but not least an elegant white rubber coat.

The complete rig cost about $330 and is considered equal to any fire chief's outfit in the country. That Chief Klein will use the outfit, to further the city's fire protection goes without saying.

Luby Case Settled: The case of D. J. Luby vs. C. C. Bennett has been settled by Mr. Bennett agreeing to pay Luby $4,000 and judgment for that sum will be entered against him. The supreme court practically settled the case with the exception of damages. Rather than have further litigation in the matter Mr. Bennett made the offer of $4,000 which was accepted. The settlement is a vindication of the charges of irregularities in business made against Mr. Luby by Mr. Bennett when they were in the shoe business. This action was the outgrowth of these charges which Bennett made against Luby.

ROB LOWELL HARWARE CO?

THIEVES SECURE $33 AND THREE HUNDRED IN PLUNDER.

A $1,000 BURGLAR INSURANCE

Knox & Daley's Carpenter Shop, and George K. Colling's, Entered for Tools.

Burglars made a raid on E. W. Lowell's store last night and escaped with between three and four hundred dollars' worth of pocket knives, razors, plated ware and $33 in money. Mr. Lowell, however carries a $1,000 burglar insurance policy and will suffer no loss.

The thieves gained an entrance to the store by the way of a window in the alleyway in the rear of the hardware store. This window is located a few feet from the sidewalk on River street and has an arena about four feet deep outside of it. Once down in this hole which offered protection to the thief from passers by, he could work on the window with very little fear of detection. The putty that held one of the lower panes of glass was cut away and the glass taken out, giving an easy mode of entrance into the basement of the store. Once inside the thief or thieves took their time about going through the hardware store.

Cutlery Case
They went to the cutlery case in front of the River street entrance and carried off every pocket knife in it that was valuable. They secured from this case about ten dozen pearl handled knives some of which ran as high as $2.50 each. From the case directly back of the knife case was one containing safety razors and other razors, and a lot of plated ware. The thieves secured the razors and some plated goods. The cash register was visited and $12.23 in money taken. From the business office they secured $2. a lot of stamps and Mr. Lowell's Smith & Wesson revolver, with which he had captured two thieves some time ago, one in the store and the other in the warehouse.

Were Familiar
The thieves must have been acquainted with the premises for they went through the tunnel under the alleyway leading to the basement of the grocery store, went to the rear of the basement and opened a trap door at the top of the stairs leading into the store. The cash register was what they were after in this department and they secured $18.75 from it.

Their Exit
They must have escaped from the building the same way as they came in as they left no door open behind them.

Burglary Discovered
The burglary was not discovered until this morning when W. A. Cavill came down to open the store for the day's business. His attention was called to the "knife boxes" scattered about the floor and numerous boxes containing plated ware that were not taken lying about on the show cases. He at once started an investigation and found that the store had been robbed. Mr. Lowell has a $1,000 burglar insurance policy issued by Hayner & Beers which covers the stock in the hardware store and the second and third stories of the other building, so that really all that he will lose is what money was taken.

Work Elsewhere
Two other places were entered last night, evidently by the same parties in search of tools to effect an entrance to the Lowell store. At Knox & Daley's carpenter shop on Wall street they removed a pane of glass from one of the side windows and secured an entrance to the building. Here they secured a ratchet brace, two bits and two or three chisels. One of the chisels was found inside the window at the Lowell store this morning. George K. Colling's carpenter shop on River street was also visited. Here they mounted a sloping roof in the rear and took out a pane of glass in a window near the eaten, and gained an entrance. Mr. Colling said he did not miss any tools unless they took some from a box belonging to one of the carpenters by the name of Johnson. Mr. Johnson was out of town so Mr. Colling could not tell whether or not they took anything.

One Man Theory
It is possible that one man did the three jobs. Just inside the window at Mr. Colling's shop was a new pane board and a man's footprint made when he stepped through the window is very plain. When he left the shop he went out the back and his track down the steps was clearly marked with sawdust he picked up with his damp shoes while walking around the shop in search of tools.

Local Work
The police are inclined to think the job was done by local parties or else by some one who had been posted on the arrangement of the Lowell stores.

CITY HALL COST

IS FIGURED UP

City Clerk Badger Estimates That Cost Seventy-Six Thousand Dollars Thus Far.

City Clerk Badger has completed his report of the entire cost of the city hall and site up to date as asked for by the Municipal League. He has found that including everything, site, building, furnishings, coal, help, etc., up to the present time amounts to about $76,000. Of this sum Rowson & Son have received $56,311.80, and still have something over $500 due them. The site cost $8,000 and A. W. Rush, the architect, received in the neighborhood of $3,000 for his services, which bring the cost of the site and building to about $67,000 dollars. The balance of the sum is for fittings, furnishings, coal, janitor hire and incidentals.

The public library when completed will cost about $57,000 which includes building and site, so there is some difference in the cost of the two buildings.

BEGIN WORK FOR ANNUAL CONTEST

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WILL COMPETE FOR MEDALS.

TO BE AWARDED IN MARCH

All Four of the Trophies Are Now Held by Last Year's Graduates.

Preparations for the annual high school contests was begun in earnest this week when the students entered upon their work in extemporaneous speaking under the direction of the several members of the faculty. For some time past the declamatory and oratorical work has been carried in the different classes and the holding of the preliminary contests will begin in the near future.

Annual Contest in March
The annual contest will be held in the latter part of March, at which time the four gold medals will be awarded. These medals are the Lovejoy medal for orations, the Recorder medal for extemporaneous speaking, the Loomis medal for declamations and the Mahoney medal.

It is one of the conditions of award that any one of the medals must be won three times in succession by the same person before it can be held permanently. Such a victory in still in the uncertain future as all four of the medals were won last year by members of the class of 1902 who are now alumni of the school and consequently barred from defending the prizes.

Present Medal Owners
The Lovejoy medal and the Recorder medal are held by Frank Holt. The Loomis medal by Miss Eureka Kimball and the Mahoney medal by Miss Gertrude Scott.

RAWLINS DEFENDS DEMOCRATS

Declares the Charge That His Party Is Slandering the Army to Be Infamous, If Not Cowardly, and Utters Bitter Denunciation.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The alleged outrages in the Philippines were responsible for another extraordinary debate in the senate in which the language used approached dangerously near the limits of senatorial courtesy. The trouble was started by Mr. Rawlins, who called up his resolution asking the Secretary of War for information regarding certain court-martials in the Philippines, and in the course of his remarks declared that Father Augustin had been murdered in cold blood.

Arouses Beveridge.

This aroused Mr. Beveridge, who said he had hoped that an end had been reached of the policy of insurrection and badger about the American soldier. Mr. Rawlins resented what he termed a charge that the Democrats were attacking the American army, adding:

"It is a false and infamous charge, and I will cram it down the teeth of the men who have falsely given it utterance. I brand the statement as infamous, if not cowardly. It is simply an attempt to put me in a false position, which I will not occupy."

Carmack Is Sarcastic.

Mr. Carmack injected himself bodily into the debate, characterizing the charge that the Democrats were assailing the army as the "meanest and dirtiest" of all that had been made. "It has been the very vermin," he said, "of this debate, and I am a little surprised to find it crawling in the hair of the honorable senator from Indiana. Jake Smith is no more the American army than the senator from Indiana is the American senate, and not half as much as he thinks he is."

Says Priest Was a Rebel.

Mr. Carmack declared that the senate committee on the Philippines had refused to investigate the facts of the murder of Father Augustin, and that there had been a policy of suppression. He insisted that whatever action had been taken by the President and War Department had been because they were driven to it by the minority of the senate, and that even then no single fact was brought to light. Mr. Proctor defended Captain Cornelius M. Brownell of Vermont, charged in the Rawlins resolution with being responsible for the death of Father Augustin, and declared that Father Augustin was the head and front of the insurrection in his district.

FEARS RIDICULE.

President Roosevelt May Abandon Bear Hunt Next Spring.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Owing to the exploits of newspaper correspondents on the occasion of his bear hunt in the swamps of Mississippi last fall President Roosevelt may decide to abandon all hopes of taking another hunting trip during the coming spring. The president ardently longs for another opportunity to try his luck with the bears, and his ambition has been fired by the wonderful tales told him by western senators about the sport to be found in their section of the country.

He will go west as far as the Pacific coast this spring and had hoped to stop off at some wild spot in the Rocky mountains to hunt for a few days. He is afraid, however, if he should decide upon this course that his trail would be followed by an army of newspaper and magazine writers, who would bother him very much, as was the case in Mississippi.

The president would like to go away for a week or ten days and lose himself from the world, but fears he will be unable to do so unless he first succeeds in eluding the pursuit of the correspondents. His friends are planning some arrangement by which he can escape figuring in the glaring headlines and the picturesque stories of newspapers.

PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Concurrent Resolution Aimed at Illegal Fencing of Lands.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Representative Burleson of Texas introduced a concurrent resolution directing the secretary of the interior to report what steps have been taken to prevent the alleged fencing of the public domain in New Mexico, Wyoming and Nebraska, the number of applications or filings for a part of the public domain in Nebraska and Wyoming during the years 1901 and 1902 and other information. The attorney general also is instructed to institute suits to declare all fraudulent appropriations of said lands void and secure judgments restoring said lands to the public domain.

INDIAN FUNDS.

House Decreases Appropriations When Educational System Is Scored.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The house made slow progress with the Indian appropriation bill, covering only about eight pages in over four hours. Mr. Burton of Ohio hung on the flank of Mr. Sherman of New York, who had charge of the bill, and insisted on an explanation of every item. He succeeded in having several appropriations cut down. In the debate he furnished statistics to show that the more money the government spent in educating Indians the more helpless they became. The senate amendments to the bill to amend the bankruptcy act were agreed to. The speaker appointed Messrs. Hildebrandt of Ohio, Hughes of West Virginia and Harbert of Georgia members of the temporary committee on accounts of the next congress.

MAY HAVE JUDGESHIP.

Roosevelt Asks J. L. McDonough to Fill Vacancy in Philippines.

Washington, Jan. 29.—John L. McDonough, formerly secretary of state of New York, has been consulted by President Roosevelt with a view to his appointment as associate justice of the supreme court of the Philippines. The letter written by the president to Mr. McDonough amounts practically to an offer of the place. Mr. McDonough has replied, expressing his appreciation of the offer. His letter, however, threw some doubt, it is said, on the question whether he will be able to accept it.

Looks Into Freight Rates.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The interstate commerce commission has ordered a hearing to be held in this city Feb. 26 on the recent advances in freight rates on grain, grain products, dressed meats and other commodities. The commission will hold a hearing in Kansas City Feb. 7 on the complaint of Gilbert Barr that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company imposes higher rates on carload shipments of live stock for the shorter distance from Kearney, Mo., to Chicago than for the longer distance over the same line, from Kansas City to Chicago.

Waives Jurisdiction.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The state department has again informed ex-Minister Hunter at Guatemala City that the United States waive the right of immunity in the case of his son, who is under trial there for killing Fitzgerald. The Guatemalan court has been holding up its verdict in the case of Hunter until assured from Washington of its jurisdiction in the case.

To Examine Engineers.

Washington, Jan. 29.—A board of five officers, of which Commander R. F. Peary, the arctic explorer, is president, has been appointed by Secretary Moody to conduct the examinations that are to be held in New York and Chicago, beginning Feb. 23, to fill vacancies in the corps of civil engineers of the navy.

Delay in Lessor Case.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The subcommittee of the house naval affairs committee appointed to draw up findings for the committee in the matter of the investigation of the Lessor bribery charges did not meet owing to the absence from Washington of one of the members.

Dean Retains Place.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Charles Ray Dean, who has been the private secretary of David J. Hill, assistant secretary of state, for the last three years, has been invited by Francis B. Loomis, who succeeds Dr. Hill, to remain with him in the same capacity and he will do so.

Two-Year-Old Child of Virginia Left Behind by Older Playmates.

Bedford City, Va., Jan. 29.—Three black bears attacked the children of James Parker, a mountaineer living on the road from Moneta to Arcadia, on the James river, and killed and ate his 2-year-old baby. The three children were playing in the edge of the woods only a few hundred yards from the house when the bears made their appearance. The animals were bold and the two older children, forgetful of the baby, ran to the house. The father and mother rushed to save the youngest child, but the bears had killed the baby before they were within gunshot.

ILLINOIS SOLONS FIGHT ON RULES

WILL ALLOW NO AMENDMENTS

No Roll Calls to Be Permitted on Proposed Changes, Though One Will Be Taken on the Proposition as a Whole.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 29.—The fight over the house rules has been postponed until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. It is settled that the republican majority of the committee will report the rules of the last general assembly, with a few unimportant changes. Speaker Miller, it is announced, will kill all amendments offered by the Democrats by refusing to recognize any demand for a roll call.

The constitution of the state says that a roll call shall be had in the house on demand of five members, but this will be lost sight of in the exigencies of the situation.

The speaker's friends say, however, that while he will not allow the offering of a substitute set of rules, he will permit a roll call on the question of the adoption of the rules reported by a majority of the committee. The house can then vote them up or down just as it pleases.

Oppose Amendments.

The Democrats will, however, try and secure some amendments, the most important one declaring that every Thursday during the month of February resolutions shall be made a special order, immediately following the reading of the journal.

A majority of the committee on rules is bitterly opposed to this amendment, as resolutions might be adopted in case the house approved it. For that reason Speaker Miller will not recognize any demands for a roll call on amendments, but will promptly kill them under the gavel.

Popular Election.

Senator Garner introduced a resolution on the proposition of electing United States senators by direct vote of the people. After reciting the indorsement of the proposition by the people of the state of Illinois at the last general election, and also the provisions of article V. of the constitution, the resolution declares, the house concurring therein, that application is made to congress for a convention for proposed amendments to the constitution as provided for in article V. aforesaid. LUNG TROUBLES are the curse of America. Have you this insidious monster gnawing away at your delicate lungs? If so, do not delay! These tiny disease germs will rapidly eat away your lung cells. These microbes know no rest. They feed constantly. Not until you destroy them will they stop. Liquezone is a positive means to kill them. Thousands of people have taken it and are today as well as they ever were, strong and healthy. Do not throw your valuable life away. Half an hour's investigation will prove to you the truth of our claims. We do not expect you to believe our unsupported word. We know that will relieve you quickly and cure you permanently. We also want you to know this, for it may mean life to you. Read what Miss Gatans, of Chicago, says:

"I have been troubled with general weakness and lung trouble for about a year, and have tried every means to get relief. I was terribly run down; had fainting spells, I would have to sit down and rest if I went up a few steps. My cheeks had all fallen in, and I was most miserable. Some weeks ago I obtained a bottle of Liquezone and the result was wonderful. In a few days I started to regain my health and strength, and now I feel quite well. It has brought the color to my cheeks. I have gained about 10 pounds in that time. I consider my improvement most wonderful, and will do all I can to let people know about Liquezone."

MISS MARGARET H. GATANS, 1400 Evanston Ave., Chicago, Ill.

There are thousands of others who have been restored to perfect health by Liquezone. Ask any of the people who were cured by Liquezone and find out whether or not they speak the truth. Their gratitude will lead them to tell to fellow sufferers what Liquezone has done for them. It is absolutely harmless—a pure liquid containing an excess of oxygen, Nature's cure for disease. It is not a drug, not a medicine. Approved by physicians and used in many hospitals. Sold by druggists. Write for booklet. PREPARED ONLY AT THE LABORATORIES OF

THE LIQUID OZONE CO., 229 Kinzie St., CHICAGO.

MUCH ILLNESS AFTER BANQUET

Sickness Follows the Burns Celebration Held at Central Hall on Tuesday Evening.

It is estimated that at least fifty persons—some conjectures place the number as high as two hundred or over—have suffered to some degree from illness resulting from something eaten at the banquet of the Caledonian society Tuesday evening. Most of the victims attribute the evil results to canned tongue which was served, but Mrs. Louise H. Dowerman, the caterer, says that no tinned goods were used.

On the contrary, she says, nothing was used but the highest grade of fresh goods procurable. The tongue was ordered from one of the local dealers, and a high price was paid for it. When questioned regarding the matter this noon, she expressed surprise that any illness had resulted and that the blame was laid to the tongue.

Not Sick From Tongue
Mrs. Dowerman said that she had eaten freely of the tongue herself, as had a number of her neighbors, and none of them had suffered in consequence. She was at a loss to explain the sickness.

Those who were taken ill are not agreed on the cause, but they are unanimous in laying it to the banquet, either as a whole or to some article. Those who investigated the matter most carefully say that they were unable to learn of any who ate the tongue who did not suffer in some degree, or of any who did not touch it who were affected.

Numbers Slightly Ill
One man compiled a list of over fifty persons who were indisposed following the Burns celebration. Some of the guests were obliged to leave the hall early the evening of the banquet. No serious effects are anticipated, although a number were obliged to remain at their homes yesterday and others are in greater distress today.

MEXICAN ROBBERS GET EIGHTY BARS OF SILVER

Booty Secured From Bonded Car in Transit Nets $40,000 to the Looters.

Alamogordo, N. M., Jan. 29.—Between this place and El Paso, Tex., robbers looted a United States bonded car in transit from the El Paso smelter to Chicago and loaded with 800 bars of silver bullion. Eighty of the bars, valued at $40,000, were stolen.

At Jarilla Junction the broken car seal was discovered and investigation revealed three Mexicans in the car. When an attempt was made to eject them they drew knives and fought the train crew. The latter, however, drove away the robbers.

At Dog Canyon Sheriff Hunter saw three Mexicans who ran into the brush. He ordered them to halt, but was answered by a fusillade of shots. A running fight ensued. Hunter shot a Mexican through the heart. The other two men escaped.

PROPOSAL TO ASSESS UNMARRIED PEOPLE

Bill to Tax Spinsters and Bachelors Causes Dissension Among New York Legislators.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29.—A bill which has just been introduced in the legislature here provides that all unmarried women between the ages of 35 and 50 shall pay a tax of $25 a year and all bachelors between 40 and 65 $50.

Discussion on the bill has brought about a great deal of dissension in the house. William J. Grattan said he thought the act would work a great hardship on the woman who would be compelled to marry William V. Cooke, from the Third Albany district, who introduced the bill.

"Any woman," he said, "who would acknowledge she loved him ought to be fined."
When asked if the bill would pass Assemblyman Cooke said: "It will pass so quick no one will see it go by."
